Dedication

To

Lovers of literature,
People who drink knowledge like water.

Preface

This book has been written for students, teachers and all lovers of imaginative literature. It can be used by students at different levels of higher education.

I have written this book to add value to academic readership. The book explores the dynamics of literature with coherent exploration of the basic genres. The book also takes into account the perspectives of others with apt interpretation laced with simple expressions and clarity. The cited works are literary proofs chosen to deepen clarity in the interpretation given about literature, its genres, features and important elements.

Notably, this book has been carved out of my years of teaching and mentoring in the university. I wouldn't have written it without the good academic background made available by my teachers at different levels of my academic journey.

Ifeoma Ezinne Odinye (PhD)
