EDITORIAL NOTE

KDJAS is a multidisciplinary journal of African studies; the Journal is published by the Department of History and International Studies at Nnamdi Azikiwe University. It is committed to the promotion of cutting edge research in the broad field of African studies. The Journal is particularly interested in researches that privilege African history, demography, politics, culture, economy, languages, and religions.

The articles are subjected to peer-reviews and editing before they are finally accepted for publication. In the choice of articles for publication, consideration is given to quality, originality, proper organization and presentation of facts as well as to the clarity and accuracy of the facts presented. The Editorial Board also places great premium on the authors' critical and constructive views on issues under discussion. However, opinions expressed in the articles are entirely those of the authors. Book reviews are also welcome.

KDJAS encourages the knowledge production in African languages. Authors are therefore encouraged to write in their preferred language. English translation of abstract is however required. Articles forwarded for consideration should not have been published or submitted for publication elsewhere.

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. In general, articles should not exceed 6,000 words (or about 17 pages of a-4-sized paper).
2. Pages should be numbered consecutively throughout. Page 1 should contain the title of the articles and running head of not more than 40 characters, including space. Page 2 should contain a short abstract of 100 to 150 words. Contributors are advised to reduce the use of tables to the barest minimum.
3. As a multidisciplinary journal, references are not restricted to any documentation style sheets. However, consistency should be rigorously followed.
4. Any short quotations, (fewer than 40 words) should be incorporated into the body of the text with single quotation marks. Longer quotations should be indented and typed in single spacing without quotation marks. Quotation should be identified within the body of the text in a similar way to references. Titles of books and journals should be underlined.
5. A brief biographical note should be provided on a separate sheet, including particulars of the author's present position, any information of special relevance and address for any further communication.
7. Please send manuscripts to: kdjas2020@gmail.com
