

Once Upon a Thought

You are an image
 stored in a body-monitor with detailed degrees of fineness or coarseness filtered in bulk.

Drink water or wine,
 your inward abstraction keeps fining down on the surface littering every second as you jay-walk in the middle of a score.

You are a Chord with discerning details.
 Act sublimely—cut back on pathogens that end up expressing you in projection—negative or positive, that's a Resolution!
