EDITORIAL NOTE

This journal is a publication of the Faculty of Humanities, Nigeria Police Academy, Wudil, Kano State, Nigeria.

Nigeria Police Academy Journal of Humanities (POLACJOH) publishes well-researched and peer-reviewed articles in all areas of humanities and beyond. Some of the areas include but not limited to languages, linguistics, history, international studies/relations, communications, arts, security, political science and sociology. The journal is usually published twice in a year. Articles already published or sent out for publication are not acceptable for publication; every submitted article must be original and virgin, unless when it is a review of an earlier published article. Articles submitted for publication should be in Microsoft Word format. The font should be in Times New Roman, 12 point font on A4 paper size. Every article submitted for publication should not exceed 8,000 words in length. It should also include in the main text an abstract not exceeding 250 words, an introduction, main body and conclusion, depending on the type of subject covered or discipline perspective of the paper. In view of the multi-discipline nature of the journal, no common referencing style is adopted. However, authors are strongly encouraged to use referencing styles that are usually associated with the discipline thrust of their various articles.
